EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Terry Watt on August 15, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, line 6, after "aperture", in a side of said upper portion has been inserted.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: While it is known in the art to provide a skimmer apparatus comprising a skimmer body having an interior, an upper portion, and a lower portion, said skimmer body positionable to be within the captive body of water, wherein (a1) said upper portion of said skimmer body contains at least one intake aperture for receiving surface water from the captive body of water, and, (a2) said lower portion of said skimmer body contains at least one discharge aperture for removing water from said interior of said skimmer body; a submersible pump external to said skimmer body interior and positionable to be directly connected to said lower portion thereof said submersible pump having at least an intake orifice and a discharge orifice, said intake orifice being in fluid communication with said discharge aperture of said skimmer body and in fluid communication with said interior of said skimmer body, said submersible pump at least for removing water from said skimmer body interior via said discharge aperture; and, a porous filter positionable to be within said skimmer body interior for receiving and filtering water drawn into said interior of said skimmer by said submersible pump (see US Pat No 5,133,854 to Horvath), in the examiner's opinion, the prior art fails to teach or fairly suggest a skimmer having the above elements in combination with an intake aperture in a side of the upper portion.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
